CRITICAL SERVICE ADVISORY

- Make no mistake – our contingency service cannot replicate the railroad. We will not be able to provide the level of service or the capacity that our rail service currently offers to our customers.

- Our contingency plan will only be able to accommodate approximately 38 percent of the existing New York-bound customer base.

- Approximately 105,000 customers make up the total New York-New Jersey, rail-based interstate market -- including customers who transfer from NJ TRANSIT rail to PATH trains at Hoboken Terminal and Newark Penn Station.

- There will be NO midday, evening, weekend or reverse commute service will operate on these park-ride routes.

- NJ TRANSIT has created a special section on our web site at www.njtransit.com/railstoppage with links to the latest travel information across modes.
